GENERAL NEWS

BY TELEGRAPH TO THE OREGONIAN

A Good Week's Business

NEW YORK, May 13—According to the Public's clearing-house exchanges, the look-out is much more encouraging than for some previous weeks. Perhaps this feature in part to the fact that large assessments will be called during the first week of a month which spring from transactions of two, three or four months previous to the part of the exchanges about May 1 it may represent purchases made in January and February when business was undoubtedly more active. Another cause of the change during the past week is the payment of interest and dividends on investments and of rentals in the cities as rents have generally advanced, and are probably paid more promptly than they were one year ago. Settlements on that account would natural y swell exchanges perceptibly but it is undeniable that another and more satisfactory cause of increased exchanges accompanies the movement to grain.

The recent decline in prices has induced larger increased purchases both for export and for domestic consumption. In spite of the shrinkage of values, however, the aggregate of the week's business is not more than equal to that of one year ago. Returns from various cities shows the following percentage of gains and losses over the corresponding week of last year: Gains—New York, 33.7 Boston, 30.9 Philadelphia, 31.0 Chicago 31.4, St. Louis 35.6 Cincinnati 75.4, Baltimore 4.8; New Orleans, 16.5, Pittsburg 42.2, Providence 11.8, Kansas City 80.8 Cleveland 60.9 Indianapolis 74.4 New Haven 43.2 Syracuse 15.8 The following shows losses: San Francisco, 7.4 Louisville, 35 Lowell 6. The surprising irregularities at Milwaukee and Baltimore are probably due in part to the great difference in the grain trade which was remarkably small at this season last year at Milwaukee and remarkably large at Baltimore. On the whole there seems reason to believe that the reaction from unnatural speculative activity and advance in prices may have gone so far at most of the cities that more healthy traffic is near at hand—for has already commenced though there may yet be considerable hesitation until the prospect as to this year's crops is more clear.

Attempt to Murder the Spanish Consul at New York by means of an Infernal Machine.

NEW YORK May 13—An attempt was made to-day by some party or parties unknown to kill Spanish Consul Genera Hypolito Durisrie by an infernal machine concealed among his letters. It was about eight inches long and three wide done up in a brown paper box. He used his pen knife to open it and immediately when he took the cover off the box there was a loud explosion and some balls of fire shot out of the box, burning the carpe, and the consul's coat and scorching his hands but doing no further damage. An examination of the box showed that its purpose was to kill the person who opened it. Inside of it was a quantity of gunpowder a large percussion cap and what is supposed to be auto glycerine. It was postmarked Philadelphia. The consul general has no idea as to who sent him the deadly package but surmises that it is a Cuban plot to destroy his life.

Chairman Whitthorne has prepared a brief written report in advance of the proposed action setting forth the growth and importance of the commerce and magnitude of the interests in the northwest but if the committee of course to dismiss what will on the coast of Oregon or Washington be able.

The Mining Laws Again

The committee on mines to day had under consideration Representative Thurston's bill to amend the mining laws. Thurston explained the bill and urged its passage. Hewitt opposed the bill and moved to strike out the enacting clause. Hewitt's motion was lost by a vote of 7 to 5. Hewitt then moved to amend by striking out the provision which allows the purchase of timber lands for mining purposes.

The Daily Oregonian.

FRIDAY MORNING, MAY 14, 1880.

AN AWKWARD PAUSE.

Since the president's recent veto another pause is observable in the programme of the brigadiers at Washington. A year ago they were spouting exuberant and indignant rhetoric on these occasions, talking state sovereignty, asserting that the United States had no electors and therefore couldn't properly have any election laws, and that since the president would not consent to repeal the laws in a direct way, they were right in attempting to compel his signature by coupling the proposed repeal with necessary appropriations. And the threat was conveyed that the money never would be voted unless the bill was signed. Repeated vetoes shook this belligerent confidence, and as time advanced the appropriations were reluctantly granted, one after another, till only the single appropriations for the marshals was wanting. Again there has been an attempt to pass this in the old way, but again the effort to force the legislation demanded has been checked by veto, not because it is so objectionable in the modified form now presented, but for the reason that it comes, as before, in the form of a rider to coerce the president. And now, as it is so near the presidential election, the Bourbon managers repress their rage, stifle every threatened ebullition of angry speech and keep everybody quiet as possible, lest more might be said than could soon be mended. It is amusing enough to witness this meekness and submission, and to contrast it with the roaring wrath of a year ago.

No effort seems to have been made since the last veto to reconstruct the shattered programme. The majority in control of congress is drifting without aim or purpose, and seem to be waiting only for an opportunity to adjourn. The great issues on which the presidential contest of this year was to be made up and pressed with a vigor never heretofore equaled are not to be heard in the contest at all. The theories of state sovereignty and state supremacy, and confederate notions in general, which underlie the organization of the democratic party, are to be kept out of sight. Last year's elections gave a warning. The democratic party, on the issues itself had raised, was crushed under popular condemnation in every northern state. It now sees it has no chance whatever unless it keeps in the background and as far out of sight as possible the political theories on which it made its great fight during the whole of the last session of congress and during the extra session before it.

Whether the democratic party will be able to make an active and aggressive fight after it has suppressed all the purposes for which it exists, remains to be seen. It is distinctively the democratic party because its real aims and objects are those which were proclaimed during the extra session, when it was belligerent, aggressive, and thought it was going to carry all before it. But now, if these intentions are to be suppressed or kept in concealment, it seems probable that only a languid interest will be taken by the party in the contest before it. The party which skulks is usually beaten. No strong fight can be made except for a well defined purpose and a clearly recognized and avowed cause. It is almost certain that the democratic party could carry more votes on an openly defined statement of its actual intentions than it can command on any policy which amounts to an effort to conceal its real designs. The philosophy of this same remark will apply to all other parties as well. The "still hunt," however successful on occasion in a small way never captures any of the larger game.

PROTEST AND DIVISION.

The name of General Grant, which was to act like magic upon the public mind and produce an enthusiasm which was to recommend him to the presidency with an unanimity never before witnessed, is having in Illinois an effect something different from this gracious promise of harmony and peace. So disturbing an element is it that it has produced a "bolt" in Chicago and is likely to result in a split in the state convention. The "strong man," whose name was to unite his party, on the contrary rives it asunder. Everywhere the name awakens protest and produces discord. All this seems very much the reverse of the general and spontaneous uprising of which the country was assured on the mere mention of the ex-president's name for another term. Nor is the mere idea of opposition to the third term at the bottom of this feeling against his nomination. The principal objection is of a different kind. Great as General Grant's military abilities are acknowledged to be, and just and unquestionable as are the grounds of his military fame, as two terms in the presidential office demonstrated so plainly the lack of the qualities necessary for civil administration that the remembrances of them, far more than any superstitious prejudice against a third term, is the chief motive of the strenuous opposition to his nomination in the states to which the republican candidate must look for his election. The fact is, President Grant was colorblind in his judgment of men necessary for the work of civil administration. His whole administration was a perpetual series of enormous public scandals which at last awakened such a storm of public opprobrium as to drive all his favorites from position, though he clung to them to the last, unable to perceive their incompetency or credit their dishonesty. Having small capacity h mself for civil affairs, he had therefore no standard by which to judge that of others. His administration took its tone and direction from the influences which surrounded him, and finally settled down to the level of his own personal attachments. Great as he had shown himself to be in directing armies and combining the physical forces which determine the result of battles and campaigns, he had no aptitude for dealing with those more subtle and delicate moral forces which enter into the conduct of civil affairs and mould public opinion. When he took the presidency the republican party was overwhelmingly in the ascendant. When he retired from the presidency he delivered the office to a successor elected by a doubtful majority of one in the electoral college, and confronted with an enormous democratic majority in congress. It is these facts and considerations which constitute the basis of opposition to Gen. Grant in his party, and which cause division in the party wherever his name is strongly pressed for the Chicago nomination.

PRESERVATION OF FRUIT.

Much of the dried fruit of the country today is no better—if it is as good—as that which was consumed one hundred years ago. Somehow people had come to think that fruit when dried ought to be the color of mahogany, and the liquid in which it is boiled should be the color of uncreamed coffee. Fruit was usually set out on screens and dried by the slow process of the sun, or put into the oven after the bread was taken out, if the sun failed to shine; in the meantime it was visited by hosts of common flies, wasps, moths, hornets, spiders and other "vermin" that mutilated it and peppered it all over with their excretal matter, so that consumers were compelled to wash it thoroughly before boiling it, or eat more than they bargained for. At other times it was strung on strings and hung up to dry by the sun or atmosphere, under a like exposure, or put in tin or iron pans and dried in the oven, which was often made hot enough to dry it as crisp as old shoe leather, or burn it as black as charcoal. Much of that in the market at the present day is of the same character, and especially the kind made of sweet apples, and often when brought to table is of an inky color, and anything but inviting to the appetite.

Another objection to much of the dried fruit was that it was dried with the skins on, and this was especially the case with sweet apples and peaches, and also, in some cases, with pears. This is to some extent still the case. Possibly there may be some people who prefer unpared dried fruit, and if this is the case the demand for it should certainly be supplied. Another reason, perhaps, is that pared fruit necessarily commands a higher price, and people may prefer the unpared on that account. But with the present improved paring and coring machines the labor of preparing fruit to dry is very much diminished; besides, it takes longer thoroughly to dry fruit that is unpared than it does that which is pared. During the last ten or twelve years various machines have been invented for drying fruit by artificial heat in such a manner as to retain nearly its original color and flavor. The same philosophy in drying out and pared fruits is to subject them to a current of dry heated air in order to dry the cut surface quickly, which prevents discoloration and makes an artificial skin, which practically closes the cellular tissues that contain the acid and starch, which yield glucose or fruit-sugar. Let it also be remembered that fruit dried by this method needs no preparatory washing—indeed, washing always carries off a considerable amount of the flavor and saccharine matter, and produces a corresponding insipidity.

There is another matter connected with fruit drying for market which seems to have elicited but little attention generally, but which, we believe, would pay in the end, and that is to make different grades of quality, and these grades should be based upon equal degrees of ripeness and equal degrees of texture. For instance, ripe fruit and unripe should not be inc luded in the same lot; neither should naturally tough and tender fruit, because unripe and tough fruit always requires longer boiling than ripe and tender fruit; hence in the culinary preparation the former may be partially raw whilst the latter may be reduced to a pulp when they are boiled together. Time was when butchers paid little attention to grading their meats, except, perhaps, in the larger cities; but now the thing is more systematically arranged everywhere, and it pays. The tobacco growers see the advantage of systematic grading in preparing their crops for market, but before they learned it many a first-class lot of tobacco was sacrificed because of the inferior grades being mixed up with it. It pays there, and pays them well, too, to grade their crops into different qualities. It would pay equally well in dried fruit. Our country—the Pacific northwest,—is so excellent for fruit growing that the best methods of utilizing and preserving fruits should be a study of great interest here. The canning business will also in time become one of greatest importance with us. It would have received attention ere this were fruits for canning sufficiently abundant with us. Some think, perhaps, that we are now producing a good deal of fruit; but we don't whether a supply of peaches, pears, plums and the like could yet be had here to maintain even one great canning establishment. To these fruits may be added peas, tomatoes, green beans and other vegetables, and all the small fruits, which grow with us in greatest abundance and perfection.

Immense volumes containing reports of evidence and arguments of counsel in the Fitz John Porter case, elaborated with costly maps of the scenes in question, continue to come through the mails from time to time. We have on hand enough Fitz John Porter literature, printed at the government charge, to serve as kindling all next winter, and if the deluge does not stop will soon have waste paper to sell. The direct and incidental cost to the government of this case has been not less than one million dollars, and the end is not yet. It has been conducted like a first-class hotel, "regardless of expense," every detail being on that lavish style peculiar to army trials. These "investigations" cost too much money. Just what the charge is each year for determining what is becoming to an "officer and a gentleman" we cannot give; but it is way out of proportion to benefits resulting to the military service. Court martials are convened to try the most trivial causes with as little regard to cost as if the treasury were bottomless. Within a year an officer in this department was charged by another in an angry squabble with cowardice and deeming his honor involved, demanded proceedings in the case, which were granted. After witnesses had been brought from all over the country at a cost of above $15,000, the parties agreed to play quits and so the matter ended. This is but a sample of the cases continually occurring. Civil service reform is a good thing and military service reform is quite as necessary.

The statement made by several democratic papers to the effect that Mr. E. B. Watson as an attorney once gave an opinion that Chinese were entitled to rights of citizenship under our laws, and that he made application in behalf of Chinese clients for their naturalization, is entirely without foundation. He never gave an opinion that Chinese were eligible to American citizenship, and never made such application in behalf of any Chinaman. This absurd story was circulated in Jackson county two years ago when Mr. Watson was a candidate there, but after the examination which he challenged was withdrawn. If this is the best campaign story his opponents can start, they might as well give it up.

There are many signs that Judge Bellinger is doing certain work of a scarrite kind in the little expert's organ. He would do well to keep his hand out of that sort of thing. It would be consistent with the dignity of the bench, and, moreover, might save him the perusal of some comparisons and illustrations as to history and character which perhaps would be equi to point of statement and interest to anything his own leisure could produce about others.

Senator Edmunds, speaking the other day in regard to our shipping, said he did not think its decline was chiefly owing to the rebellion. It was due mainly to other causes, chief among which was the great change which has taken place in methods and materials of construction. It should be evident that so long as foreigners can build vessels for less money and run them at less cost than ourselves, they will get the great part of the business.

The Hillsboro Independent has sold the use of one of its columns to the republican ticket after the June election, and it offers another to the democrats on like terms. As yet the latter have not responded. Mr. T. B. Handley is editor of the republican column. His work, it is needless to say, is characterized by vigor and efficiency.

The total debt of the United States has been brought by the reductions of the last three months under two thousand million dollars. The exact amount of the debt on the first of the present month was $1,993,113,733 72.

Mr. W. H. Odell, of the Salem Statesman, has been named by the state republican committee for the office of state printer. We hope to see him elected.

CITY.

IMPROVING THE COUNTY JAIL.—For a number of years grand juries of the state circuit court have never failed to mention in their reports the unhealthful, unwholesome condition of the county jail, and to offer some suggestions which would improve it in a sanitary point of view. At length we are pleased to note the fact that the county court has "taken judicial knowledge" of the condition of the jail, and has determined to improve it. A trench is being dug clear around the court house building, which is about four feet deep and four feet in width. When the stone foundation of the building was laid the walls of the basement were constructed directly against the earth, and, of course, the jail during the winter months has suffered continually from dampness and bad ventilation. The purpose now is to remove the earth from against the outer wall of the basement by hauling a ditch to be dug. A stone wall will be built on the outside of the trench to prevent the earth from caving in, and the trench will be covered with gratings. By this means the dampness will be obviated and the ventilation greatly improved. C. O. Connell has the contract for making the excavation, and W. H. Courtney the contract for the masonry work. The work will be crowded forward as rapidly as possible.

RELEASED.—The Daily Bee, which we announced two or three days since had been attached and closed, upon suit of William Reid for debt, was yesterday, as we learn, released by the marshal on a compromise between the parties interested, and the paper will probably continue till the next man gets tired of furnishing the money. Mr. Reid, it is reported, succeeded in getting something like fifty cents on the dollar. If he did so well he made a very lucky settlement. The money is understood to be come from the representative of a paper house in San Francisco, which the concern was largely in debt, and the arrangement was doubtless made in the hope of preventing utter loss. That will be a problem for the new owner to wrestle with in the future, as a going newspaper furnishes a sufficiently good opportunity for permanent investment of money. The arrangement now seems to be worth up like this, that whereas the Bee has for some time been troubled with a big unpaid paper bill, and numerous other liabilities, a big unpaid paper bill is now troubled with the Bee and other numerous liabilities.

THE RAILWAY AT OSWEGO.—The barkentine North Bend, which arrived at this port from San Francisco a few days ago, brought 130 tons of railroad iron, dump cars, etc., which will be used in constructing the railway from the furnace at Oswego to the wrecks. As at first it was thought cheaper to tow the North Bend up to Oswego and discharge the freight there, and the captain of the vessel went up to that place on Tuesday to ascertain if the barkentine could reach there without risk. He found an abundance of water, but it was subsequently determined by the company not to tow the vessel up, as the material could be placed on a river boat and conveyed to Oswego quite as cheaply as to pay for towage. All the ties for the road have been cut and are being distributed along the proposed route, and most of the grading is completed. The work of track-laying will be commenced in a few days and pushed through to completion. It is expected to have the road in operation by the first of June. The locomotive, which was ordered some time ago in the east, has not yet arrived.

OREGON PIONEER ASSOCIATION.—At the last meeting of the Oregon Pioneer Association it was decided that the next annual meeting of the association should be held in Portland. This arrangement was made on the condition that certain necessary expenses attending the meeting of the association should be defrayed by the citizens of this city. The meeting will be held here on the 15th of June. A committee will call on the citizens of Portland to-day to solicit funds to meet expenses. It has been suggested that Portland hold a celebration on the occasion of the meeting of the pioneers instead of on the 4th of July. This is certainly a good idea, as the state fair will be in progress on the 4th, and it is the purpose of the board of managers of this State Agricultural Society to make the celebration a grand affair. Portland should heartily join in and contribute to the success of the celebration which will take place at the state fair grounds.

INSANE PATIENTS.—John Olonoeaux, a Frenchman, who imagines himself pleased with two wives, was on Wednesday adjudged insane and was taken over to the asylum by Jailer Barry. Sheriff Cousens, of Washington county, on Wednesday evening brought down a woman named Ellen Conway from The Dalles and placed her in the asylum. The unfortunate woman is the mother of a large family, and for some time past has suffered from mental aberration.

ORGANIZATION OF A MEDICAL SOCIETY.—A meeting of physicians of this city was held last evening to take steps toward the organization of a county medical society. Dr. Frazier acted as chairman and Dr. Strong as secretary. Drs. Rex, Saylor, Strong, Gibson and H. C. Wilson were appointed as a committee to prepare a plan of organization to be reported at the full meeting, which will be held at Dr. Strong's office next Thursday evening at 8 o'clock.

PROBABLY DROWNED.—Mr. James W. Cook received a dispatch yesterday from his brother, Wm. Cook, from Clifton, to the effect that Andy Gilt and the boat pulled were supposed to be drowned below Sand Island on Wednesday. The boat and nets were picked up. No further particulars were given.

MEETING OF REPUBLICAN STATE CENTRAL COMMITTEE.

W. H. Odell Nominated for State Printer, and C. B. Parrish Prosecuting Attorney for the Fifth Judicial District.

A meeting of the republican state central committee was held at the office of Dolph, Bronaugh, Dolph & Simon in Portland on Tuesday, May 12, 1880, at 1 o'clock P. M.

The meeting was called to order by Mr. Joseph Simon, chairman of the committee, who briefly explained the object of the meeting.

The following counties were represented:

Baker—D. L. Mosmaw, by J. C. Moreland, proxy.
Benton—T. J. Buford.
Clackamas—J. F. Apperson.
Clatsop—L. W. Case, by R. P. Barhart, proxy.
Coos—D. Morse, Jr., by Geo. A. Steel, proxy.
Columbia—W. J. Morse.
Douglas—E. G. Hirsh, by A. Myers, proxy.
Jackson—M. Bellinger by Joseph Simon, proxy.
Josephine—Thomas Floyd, by W. A. McPherson, proxy.
Lane—I. W. Harris, by T. J. Buford, proxy.
Linn—Walter Ketchum, by T. B. Odeneal, proxy.
Marion—Jacob Voorhees, by W. Breyman, proxy.
Multnomah—Joseph Simon.
Polk—O. C. Shurtliff, by R. P. Barhart, proxy.
Tillamook—T. T. Maulsby, by J. W. Watts, proxy.
Umatilla—Fred. Page Tustin, by Joseph Simon, proxy.
Wasco—E. L. Smith, by Z. F. Moody, proxy.
Washington—T. B. Handley.
Yamhill—J. J. Spencer.

A letter was received from Mr. Gesner, stating that he had received the proxy of Grant county, with instructions to cast the vote for W. H. Odell for state printer, but through the omission of the committee from Grant the proxy was not signed and has been returned to him for signature. On motion the secretary was authorized to cast the vote as instructed in the letter.

A motion was made and unanimously carried electing Geo. A. Steel as secretary.

The next order of business being the election of candidate for state printer, the following nominations were made:

Gen. W. H. Odell, of Marion county.
E. M. Waite, of Marion county.
Geo. H. Himes, of Multnomah county.
M. S. Monteith, of Linn county.

The chair appointed T. J. Buford and J. J. Spencer, as tellers.

A ballot being taken resulted as follows:

Gen. W. H. Odell received	11	Votes
E. M. Wait "	5	"
Geo. H. Himes "	2	"
M. S. Monteith "	2	"
Total number votes cast	20

Gen. Odell having received the majority of all the votes cast, was declared the nominee of the republican party for state printer, and on motion his nomination was made unanimous.

The chairman announced to the meeting that he had received a letter from Mr. Robert Eakin, declining to be a candidate for prosecuting attorney from the fifth district, and thereupon Mr. C. W. Parrish of Grant county, was unanimously nominated to fill the vacancy caused by such declination.

Mr. Parrish not being present and the committee not knowing whether he would accept the nomination, the chairman and secretary were authorized to fill the vacancy should Mr. Parrish decline.

Mr. Odeneal moved that an executive committee consisting of five members, of whom the chairman of the state central committee should be chairman, be appointed. The motion prevailed and the following committee was then appointed: Joseph Simon, chairman; J. T. Apperson, T. J. Buford, J. J. Spencer and T. B. Handley.

On motion the committee adjourned.

AMUSEMENTS.

MRS. MCLENNAN'S BENEFIT.—This evening Mrs. Kate McLennan, who is quite a favorite with the public, will be the recipient of a complimentary benefit at New Market theater. A very attractive programme will be rendered, consisting of the ever popular opera of Pinafore and the screaming farce of "Nan, the Good For Nothing." Pinafore will be rendered by a full juvenile cast, the names of which were published in yesterday's issue—over fifty little girls and boys taking part in its production. Mrs. McLennan has had the children in course of constant training for over two weeks. Last evening a full rehearsal was given, and the degree of proficiency attained by the little people was really a matter of astonishment to the visitors present. The music was rendered surprisingly well, and the acting of those allotted prominent parts really good. There seems every reason to predict a very successful and satisfactory rendition of Pinafore by the juvenile company. All who desire to enjoy an evening should not fail to attend the performance. The chorus has been very well drilled and will doubtless render that essential part of the opera with spirit and precision. The farce of "Nan" will conclude the performance, Mrs. M. personating the title role. The box sheet is now open at Morse's, where seats can be reserved and have been returned to him for signature. On motion the secretary was authorized to cast the vote as instructed in the letter.

"Beauty draws us with a single hair," according to Pope; but if that hair is the only one on beauty's head, then—well, hardly ever would Alexander P. be right. But a woman as well as a Gold man's joke could transform herself into a Venus by using Madame Rachel's Enamel Bloom. And the best of it is, that no one would dream that she did use it, so natural is its effect.

Report of State Ball Committee on Wm. Scheffler's Wines and Brandy.

To the Board of Managers of the Oregon State Fair for the year 1879.—DEAR SIRS: Your committee, appointed to report on the exhibit of wines and brandies, do respectfully report that they have thoroughly examined and tested the Pond, Sauza and Kohler wines placed on exhibition by Mr. Wm. Scheffler, of St. Helena, Napa county Cal., and that we have called in experts capable of our judgment, and would feel that we were doing Mr. Scheffler great injustice did we simply report an exhibit of fine wines. The committee feel that they should go much further, and say we find an exhibit of really very superior wines, which we feel no hesitancy in recommending to the confidence of all who have use for wines. We have every reason to believe them pure, and we can say for ourselves that they are delicious in their flavor.

We have also tested Mr. Scheffler's SANITARY (VACUUM DISTILLED) BRANDY, and is pronounced by connoisseurs brought to our aid as being wonderfully smooth and invigorating—and the fact that by the new process of distilling adopted by Mr. Scheffler, the brandy is freed from the fusil oils, is a desideratum never before attained, as we believe, and should and doubtless will make Mr. Scheffler the leading brandy manufacturer on this coast. We would recommend to all druggists a trial of this brandy and these wines. And your committee would recommend the award of the society's diploma for SUPERIOR BRANDY AND WINES.

WILLAMETTE ROWING CLUB'S ANNUAL REGATTA.

Those interested in aquatic sports are anxiously watching the heavens, hoping that Saturday afternoon will prove fair, for at 4 P. M. on that day the annual race between the boats of the Willamette Rowing Club will take place.

The crews this year are well matched, and it will be a difficult matter to name the winners if the boats are started together. Unfortunately the club have allowed a 45-second start to the English-built boat Oswald, which is the opinion of many will give her the race. Her crew are strong oarsmen, who without any allowance would stand a good chance of winning. However the men in the other boats have not so much lumber and no coxswain to pull over the course, and do not at all anticipate defeat.

The crew of the Neptune have been faithfully practicing, and though this will be their first race, using sliding seats, their many friends are betting on their coming in first.

The crew of the Willamettes has been frequently changed, for the reason that she is a very difficult boat to trim with the boys who now constitute her crew. She sits on the water like a duck, and the stands a good chance of carrying off the honors.

The respective crews are each determined to be the victors, and we look forward to witnessing one of the most closely contested races ever rowed on our river. One of the steamboats will follow the race, carrying the general public for a small sum. The course will be from the south side of the Stark street ferry to the buoys stationed to the north of Ross Island and return. The following gentlemen compose the contesting crews:

Cressid—Messrs. Grant Stroke, Todd 3, Nichol 2, Curry 1.

Neptune—Messrs. Maxwell Stroke, Henshaw 3, Gail 2, T. Dunbar 1.

Willamette—James Dunbar Stroke, Mackenzie 2, Chalmers 1, Dick 1.

THE EXCURSION TO VICTORIA.

The grand international excursion to Victoria on the 22d inst. promises to be an unqualified success. Inquiries from all parts of the interior are pouring in in regard to it. No efforts are being spared to make it equal anything of a similar nature ever inaugurated from this state. It has been arranged to have a brass band accompany the excursion from Seattle. A large delegation will also join the Portland folks from Olympia, Seattle and other points on the Sound. The celebration of Queen Victoria's birthday will surpass anything ever known in Victoria. It looks as though there will be quite an exodus of Oregonians to the Venice of the northwest. Tickets can be used any time from the 22d inst. until the 4th of June.

In local finances the situation is not materially changed from the state of ease which has prevailed for sometime past. While owing to the backwardness of the spring trade remittances from the interior are slow, but an improvement in this respect is expected a few weeks later on. Rates remain at 10@12 per cent. per annum, but securities are required to be of first class in all respects.

Advices of the most reliable character indicate but little improvement in the financial situation the work of the late legislature in interpreting the constitution more than ever causing capital to be more cautious than ever in the manner of its placement. Under these interpretations it will never be possible for the state to regain her former prosperity.

From the eastern cities come reports of a decline in dry goods and hardware and while it has been marked in the latter in dry goods while there is no doubt that the top of the rise has been reached, the drop has not been at all general nor has it affected prices yet on this coast.

In groceries trade is only moderately active and buyers from the interior are fewer in number and limit their orders to what they deem actually necessary to meet the wants of their customers. Prices as a rule are firm sugar and syrups being reported a little stronger. Coffee and salt have been hardly sustained at former rates.

Domestic Produce.

The breadstuffs markets abroad have been unsteady during the week under review, but the local trade is devoid of life, as there are no vessels at hand to load and ship owners seem inclined to demand much higher rates than other incidents of the trade would seem to warrant. Hence no new charters are reported for some time past, nor will exporters take up vessels at a figure which could only be justified by an advance upon present European prices for wheat of at least 20 per cent, or a corresponding decline in the demand of holders of the cereal. The market however, in the face of the many obstacles noted has shown a nominal improvement of about five cents per cental during the past week, and buyers might be more readily found now at $1 60 for good grades of wheat than a week ago at $1 40. Choice valley of which the quantity available is small, might be placed at $1 55@1 60, but such prices are not to be taken as a standard for the bulk of present receipts. Reports from the wheat growing regions of the state all still agree in representing the prospects for the next harvest as bright but the flattering outlook will not continue with reference to the low level lands unless warmer and drier weather soon sets in.

Flour is coming forward quite freely, and in order to keep stocks worked down to probable wants, prices have been reduced 25c per bbl standard brands being now quoted at $5 50 in wholesale or jobbing lots. Shipments moderate in volume, while the local trade is quite active.

Oats are not in heavy supply and holders are firmly demanding full quotations.

Mill feed is in fair supply and former quotations are sustained.

Hay is in demand and prices rather high.

Provisions are in fair request and prices steady at last week's quotations.

Potatoes have been scarcer than for some months past, but the new crop of California is too near at hand to justify any expectation of an advance in prices to occur to benefit holders of the old crop in Oregon.

Onions have shown a firm and appreciative tendency and the demand is good at $3@3 50 per 100 lbs for good qualities.

Dairy products are in fair supply at the quotations which we give below.

For a few days past there has been a little more activity among wool-buyers caused by reports of improvement in the prominent wool centers east as well as in Europe. Sales of Oregon are noted in our advices from San Francisco at 24@26c which is about as low as offers by holders here who decline to sell at current bids expecting a reaction from the recent decline.

THE REAL ESTATE MARKET.

The following special report of the real estate market is furnished THE OREGONIAN by Clark & Upton real estate brokers and abstracts:

It is unusually difficult to get even an approximate estimate of the real estate business done during the past week, the reason being that of thirty four deeds recorded fifteen or nearly half, show on their face an aggregate consideration of $30. The remaining 19 give a united total of $21 665. The properties dealt in were located as follows: City 30 East Portland 7 county 7. Two of the deeds were confirmatory. The business of the week has shown no special feature, the number of transactions is about an average of the weekly amounts of the past three months. Prices in every part of the city are fully maintained and very moderate concessions on the part of sellers suffice to bring forth buyers. We look forward to the time when railroad building will be commenced in Portland and on the east side as likely to produce a very lively market. Meantime the market is steady and healthy.

ENGLISH CROPS AND MARKETS.

The Mark Lane Express in its review of the condition of the grain trade and crops in England for the week ending on the 11th of May, says:

The weather continued cold with some frosts but has not caused much anxiety, as a week's sunshine would speedily restore wheat which has lost color in some localities. The continuance of hopeful crop prospects has depressed the grain trade. The country markets have been very moderately supplied. In English wheat the condition has improved, but trade remains inanimate and a decline of a shilling per quarter has been necessary to effect sales. At the close of the week however there was more firmness and there were some signs that the decline had been arrested. Imports of foreign wheat into London have been very moderate. There was a fair consumptive demand on Monday at a reduction of a shilling per quarter on white descriptions. The decline since has much increased but business except in Russian which has been taken by speculators on the prospect of a diminution of Russian export being of the merest retail character. Millers have taken little or no advantage of the prevailing low rate. They expect a further decline, which does not appear unlikely if America continues to ship heavily and the weather remains favorable here and abroad.

Maize is hardening. A good trade was done in mixed American last Monday a quotations being 29s 6d. Arrivals at ports of call have been moderate.

Wheat, in consequence of a strong continental demand, continues to harden. Prices advanced a shilling although there is not much doing at Kingdom bidding. Red winter closed a 52s 6d to 53s and California at 49s while much stood at 53s 6d@53s.

There has been quite a demand for maize at slightly improved prices. Wheat for shipment is not freely offered and buyers still hold aloof.
